WEEKLY REPUBLICAN—1887.
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1892.

When fishing for a compliment
Adopt this simple rule:
You'll find another's compliment
The surest bait to use.

—Philadelphia Ledger.

The L. and N. uses The Ledger columns to invite people to travel over its road.

Mr. Charles E. Dietrich, Foreman of The Ledger's Job Department, spent yesterday with friends in Cincinnati.

The ladies of the First Baptist Church will serve dinner Thursday in the building adjoining Owen's Hardware store. Don't forget it.

Civil Engineer Hankins of the C. and O. is here from Richmond, Va., to remain some time in charge of extensive changes in the roadway through this city.

Charles Calvert Fischer, aged six years, died Sunday morning in Cincinnati. The deceased was a son of Mrs. Emma Fischer, nee Kreast. The remains will arrive here on the 1:36 train and will be taken direct to the Cemetery.

Call and let me show what a handsome Diamond Ring, Stud or Pendant I can sell you for little money. Prices are guaranteed lower than you pay for anywhere.

P. J. MURRAY, the Jeweler.

Mr. Charles Howard's comfortable two-story country home, just back of Murphysville, was destroyed by fire this morning at daylight. The household goods on the first floor were saved, but those in the second story were lost. The origin of the fire is not known. Loss, $1,000; insurance, $500.

50,000 YARDS ... Best ... Tobacco Canvas

Must be sold within the next two weeks. This Canvas was bought last October when cotton was 7 cents per pound. It is now 11 cents. To close out Nesbitt & Co.'s stock they will be offered

At Cost.

HURT HIS FEELINGS

The Only Damage to a Most Popular Young Horseman

Did you see him going—and the tumble? And what a fall it was, too, my countrymen; pride and glory all in a heap.

The entire population of Market street turned out and ran to the scene. Some said it was a riot, others a fire, and still others expressed the opinion that the Captain Stephen Fleming had keeled over and burst his "bilier."

Fortunately they were all wrong in their deductions and nothing serious resulted from the incident.

It was this way: Everybody knows Larry Laagefeis—handsome genial Larry, hale fellow well met, and a friend to all mankind.

Among other things Larry has a fondness for a thoroughbred horse.

He prides himself that he is the owner of a regular Mand S. His friends think otherwise, and have been twitting and telling him the best he had was a good dray horse, nothing more.

Saturday Larry passed up Market in his runabout, and standing on the sidewalk was ex-Sheriff James R. Roberson, one of his most persistent teasers.

It was Larry's opportunity to display the mettle of his horse as well as himself as a hander of the reins.

THOMPSON & MCATEE.

Saturday an eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arzman Yarnell of Prospect street, in attempting to catch on behind a passing buggy in Forest avenue, caught his leg in the wheel and before the vehicle could be stopped the limb was broken in two places.

BUSINESS REVIVED

Short Street Toughs Getting Ready For the Spring Trade

The vicinity of Short street has been on its good behavior for some time, but Saturday night the dull monotony was broken and high-jinks and lively times were in full sway.

In a fight that followed a drunken brawl a character dubbed Major Watson was slashed in the face several times with a knife, receiving ugly if not dangerous wounds, from which blood flowed freely.

The knife wielder is said to have been a man named Perkins from Augusta, and did the cutting after he had been roughly handled by the crowd of toughs of which Watson seemed to be the leader.

The same evening Elmer Limerick was standing on the corner of Second and Short, and without provocation, so he says, a fellow walked up to him and batted him with a rock, cutting a gash above his eye and knocking him down.

There will be grist to grind in the Police Court today and more money for the School Fund.

Miss Maggie Brisbois of Ripley and Mrs. Kate Kewitter of Cumminsville, O., are here at the bedside of their brother, Mr. John Brisbois, who is critically ill with typhoid fever.

For some days Mayor Heimbold and City Auditor Lang of Newport have been searching for a record of a bond issue of $31,000 that was put forth by the city over forty years ago and is still hanging over the heads of the taxpayers.

The sketch writer in Sunday's Commercial Tribune is in error when he says Charlie Davis the circus man murdered his wife and committed suicide in this city. The double tragedy occurred in New Orleans, but both were brought here for burial; and no handsomer couple were ever laid to rest in the Maysville Cemetery.

ROMEO AND JULIET

An important feature of the Simmerville production of Shakespeare's immortal tragedy of love and passion to be given at the Washington Theatre Friday, February 23d, is the scenery.

There will be shown street scenes in both ancient Verona and Mantua, the Palace of the Capulets, the Cloisters of a Convent, Juliet's chamber, interior of the monument of the Capulets and the famous balcony scene. Seats on sale Wednesday morning at Ray's.

THESE NEW COVERT COATS

Season after season the Covert Coat adds to its universal popularity. The fabric has so many possibilities for a smart tailor, and is made up in so many handsome styles that every woman wants a Covert Coat in addition to any other wraps she may possess. It is the convenient garment for countless occasions. Our first consignment of tan covert and black coats is unusually attractive. Silk emblems, fancy braid, buttons, stitching and cloth bands give variety in trimming. Lengths vary to suit different figures and sleeves have the distinctive touches of 1906. Be sure to see these attractive coats. Every purse is considered in the price list which ranges

From $5<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> to $15.

NEWPORT Councilmen propose to charge little boys $20 apiece for selling newspapers on the streets. Kentucky—state and municipal—must have taxes.

It's been a long while since the "yaller papas" have had such a bonanza of "slush" as was afforded by the Longworth-Roosevelt wedding. Now that it's over, it will be necessary for some of them hereabouts to fall back on their Owingsville and Mayking correspondents.

If Cincinnati perseveres she'll soon be up with Louisville. Within the past week two streetcars were held up and the Conductors robbed, and four highwaymen, armed with guns, went through half a dozen pedestrians in a crowded street before it was fairly dark. What a great thing "Reform Government" is!

QUITE A CONTRAST.

In looking over an old copy of The Democrat of November 21st, 1878, we came across this item: "The average price offered for hogs in this county is $2.25." How would that strike you in 1906? They are worth $5.25 or possibly a little more if they are first class.—Flemington Times-Democrat.

Well, I'll be jingswanged! And in spite of the dagdasted Dingley Robber Tariff, too!

NEARLY 6,000 Americans, men, women and children, are in peril of death at the hands of Chinese mobs in the threatened Boxer uprising. To rescue as many of these as possible from danger and take drastic action in every case where an American is molested is the purpose of the President, through the State, War and Navy Departments.

I wish the Legislature would hurry up and do its duty. I am anxious to know whether I am to live in Mason or Rowan counties, and whether WILL YOUNG or ROLLA HART is to be boss of the District.

The Chicago Council Committee which is considering the question of raising the license for saloons to $1,000 per annum has compiled the following interesting statistics relative to licenses—

	Population in 1905.	Saloons	License.
New York . . . . .	4,000,000	11,000	$1,200
Chicago . . . . .	2,000,000	8,182	$500
Philadelphia . . . . .	1,400,000	1,787	$1,100
St. Louis . . . . .	650,000	2,253	$600
Boston . . . . .	600,000	1,184	$500 to $2,000
Buffalo . . . . .	400,000	1,500	$750
Pittsburgh . . . . .	350,000	572	$1,100
Minneapolis . . . . .	250,000	500	$1,000
St. Paul . . . . .	175,000	383	$1,000
Kansas City . . . . .	175,000	590	$860
Rochester, N. Y. . . . .	175,000	504	$750
Omaha . . . . .	125,000	242	$1,000
Atlanta . . . . .	100,000	104	$7,000

If you'll kindly whet your pencil and begin a-figgering, you'll probably discover that, taking population into consideration, saloons blossom more profusely in those towns where the license fee is low. Whenever you're able to suck the Ohio dry with a ten-cent syringe, you'll enforce Prohibition laws; but High License will greatly lessen the number of saloons, besides improving the character of those that remain.

A PHENOMENON.

London Tattler.

A Negro Preacher while speaking to an audience of his own color chanced to make use in the course of his remarks of the word "phenomenon." This rather puzzled several of his hearers, who, at the close of the meeting, asked to be informed of its meaning. Not knowing quite how to answer them, the Preacher put them off till the following Sunday, when he thus explained: "If you see a cow, that's not a 'phenomenon.' If you see a thistle, that's not a 'phenomenon.' And if you see a bird that sings, that's not a 'phenomenon,' either. But," he said, "if you see a cow sitting on a thistle and singing like a bird, then that's a 'phenomenon.' "

The wedding of Hon. Nicholas Longworth and Miss Alice Lee Roosevelt took place at the White House Saturday noon, in presence of the largest assembly ever gathered on a similar occasion.

THE LIVER QUARANTINE

"TAKING HIS MEALS OUT."

Hurried eating has ruined many a man's stomach. The digestion-destroying process is gradual, often unnoticed at first. But it is only a short time until the liver balks, the digestive organs give way, and almost countless ills assail the man who endeavors to economize time at the expense of his health.

A torpid liver causes a quarantine of the entire system. It locks in the diseased germs and body poisons and affords them full play, inviting some serious illness.

In families where August Flower is used, a sluggish liver and constipation are unknown, so are all stomach ailments as well as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, headaches and kidney and bladder afflictions. No well-regulated family should be without this standard remedy.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

A Kentucky Writer's Estimate of Abraham Lincoln

In the contest was that of the famous warrior whose sagacious policy of procrastination baffled the Carthaginian invader, flushed with successive victories over the consular armies of Rome. As it was fulsomely said of the one, so most fitly it may be said of the other: Unus homo nobis cunctando resistit rem.

Abraham Lincoln was, politically, the highest embodiment of the ideas, the aspirations, the impulses of his time. He was the incarnation, too, of the sovereign will which made him chief. Popular clamor wearied his ear and vexed his heart, but they could not affect the convictions of a lifetime, his profound sense of administrative duty, or the settled policy of the pending war. He was leading the forces of the loyal states; he was assailing the forces of the seceding states; he endeavored to be faithful to the fundamental interests of both. When the end of the Confederacy came, he was standing as a tall, strong pillar of support for the broken and exhausted South; and when he fell, the vanquished Confederates felt that their cause was indeed lost. They looked forward to the inauguration of his successor with a natural sentiment of dread. This sentiment of apprehension was not realized at once. Though an iron policy of reconstruction was subsequently adopted in the subjugated states, they were happily relieved from immediate apprehension by the heroic interposition of Grant. It is, nevertheless, true that at this particular juncture the South had lost her best friend. And many a generous Southerner grieved honestly for the loss.

situation, he erred with men who were presumed to be masters in the art of war. In vain we look among the children of men for infallibility either in statesmanship or the strategic art. Imperial Caesar sometimes slept. The greatest captains sometimes err. Nothing is more fickle than the fortune of war. Nevertheless, Abraham Lincoln was an incomparable leader of men; and, while McClellan and Grant could direct more or less successfully the operations of a hundred thousand men in the field, it was Abraham Lincoln alone that could hold in hand the vast and turbulent electorate of eighteen Northern states. This was the host, in its more dangerous aspects a coalition of fanaticism and greed, which the South was called to confront; and it was Lincoln's consummate generalship, happily for the South, that held these radical and aggressive elements in check. From a disciplined army in the field, the populations of the seceding states had far less to fear, even when its soldiers were embittered by disaster or inflamed by animosity. The attitude of Lincoln when the news of the President's assassination came to General Pickett a few days after the declaration of peace, the General exclaimed, "My God, the South has lost her best friend." The sketch, though brief, is comprehensive, discriminating and just.

To say that Abraham Lincoln was not faultless is merely to say that he was not divine; to insist that he was not far-sighted and sagacious, is to suggest that he was divinely inspired. If he sometimes erred in his conceptions of the military

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Mrs. M. Archdeacon and Miss Ida Squires are in Cincinnati today.

At Grayson Jack Allen and Joseph Hall were given four years and Tom Monahan was given six years in the Penitentiary for attempting to blow the Bank safe at Willard on October 30th.

"Assassin in Maysville" was Rev. C. W. Chadwick's subject last evening at the First Baptist Church, and to the writer it was rather disappointing, as shown by the speaker the moral turpitude of this city was no greater than that of cities of similar conditions and population. In fact, none escaped under the general arraignment. Salut et aliter were Anarchists in a certain sense, according to the interpretation of the Reverend gentleman, and presumed Christians failing to live up to the laws of the Church and the mandates of God were classed with the Anarchist who defied the laws of the Government under which he was protected and equally guilty of a moral and religious wrong. The sermon was instructive and pleasing throughout. A compliment was extended both city and county officials for their zeal and efforts in upholding the law, and he called on his congregation that prayers be offered up to the Throne of Grace in their behalf that they might continue in well doing.

SPRINGDALE.

Mr. Fred Lemming left Monday for Hamilton.

The ice harvest was completed here last Saturday.

Mrs. Susan Pigg was in Maysville on business Friday.

Mr. L. C. Harrison of Lewis county was here Monday.

Mr. U. G. Adams delivered his crop of tobacco at Maysville Wednesday.

Mr. Ernest Farres left the first of the week to visit friends in Cincinnati.

Mr. Arthur D. Tolle of Tolulessboro was calling on friends and relatives here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Garrett came down from Manchester to visit relatives and friends this week.

Robert Hord and family left Monday for Hamilton, O., where they expect to reside in the future.

School has resumed after a few days dismissal, made necessary after the recent fire at the schoolhouse.

The sale of personal property of Mr. R. Hord on Friday was well attended and good prices were obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Tully of Garrison and Mrs. Lula Orton of Quincy visited Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tully Thursday.

Brother F. S. Pollitt of Los Angeles, Cal., was here Friday en route home, after a brief visit to his Old Kentucky Home.

The public is reminded that the invitation to attend our school celebration Friday, February 23d, is to all. Good recitations, songs, speeches, &c., &c. 1732+1906=174.

J. S. and C. C. Degman delivered their tobacco, 6,275 pounds, at 9 cents to the American Tobacco Company Thursday. A cigarette sample of this crop will be shown at the Fair February 22d.

Even the small boys of this neck of the woods will attend the coming Tobacco Fair, not necessarily to see the elegant samples of the weed, potatoes, corn, &c., but to take in fine music, Opera-house, &c.

The remains of Mrs. America Luman Hughes, of Portsmouth, O., were brought here Tuesday en route to be laid by the side of relatives in the family burying-ground at Olivet. Mrs. Hughes was the daughter of the late Jerry Luman, whose wife was Dorcas Evens of Fleming county. She was married to Allen Hughes, who was also a native of Fleming county and a prominent schoolteacher. A few years ago they moved to Portsmouth, O.

Mrs. James Maloney, who has been at Flemingsburg, passed through here en route to her home at Baltimore.

Saleswomen's Peril
GRAVE DISEASES, DUE TO STANDING
Facts About Miss Merkley's Dangerous
Illness and Complete Cure

Have you ever thought why so many women or girls rather walk an hour than stand still for ten minutes?

Miss Margaret Merkley

It is because most women suffer from some derangement of their delicate organism, the discomfort of which is less trying when they are in motion than when standing.

In some states laws compel employers to provide resting places for their female employees.

But no amount of law can regulate the hard tasks of these women. They must get the strength which this work demands or run the risk of serious diseases and the surgeon's knife.

Read the experience of Miss Margaret Merkley, 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis.:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Gradual loss of strength, nervousness, bearing-down pain and extreme irritation compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor said I had diseased organs and ulceration, and advised an operation if I wanted to get well. I objected to it and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instead. I soon found that all the good things said about this great medicine were true. The ulceration soon healed, backache, headache and nervousness disappeared, and in a short time I was strong, vigorous and perfectly well. I wish every working girl who suffers would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a vegetable tonic which invigorates and strengthens the entire female organism, and will produce the same beneficial results in the cases of other sick women as with Miss Merkley.
